

Primary 7 Room 11

What's happening in Room 11!

Important dates

'Come to my Classroom' Tuesday 26th August 2.15pm—3pm

PE days:

Tuesdays and Thursdays

As of Monday 25th August, homework will be shared for the week via Seesaw.

Primary 7 Room 11 have all settled comfortably back into school and are excited for their very important year ahead!

One of the things we are all most excited about is our new roles as buddies to our lovely new primary 1 children! The P7s have taken on their responsibilities with pride and are great role models to our younger pupils.

In literacy we have started reading our new novel, 'Breadwinner' by Deborah Ellis. This story follows the hardships of a young girl living in Afghanistan under Taliban rule. Through it, we will explore the themes of bravery, friendship and courage.

In maths this term we are revising previously taught concepts as well as working with decimals up to 3 decimal places, exploring negative numbers and moving on to calculations with negative numbers, time calculations and durations and properties of shapes including different types of triangles and circles.

With it being a new school year, we have revisited the UNCRC and revised our rights and how they apply to all of us, always. We have also explored how this links to Pope Francis letter Laudato Si and how we must care for our Common Home. We have begun to create a class charter that reflects the UNCRC articles which are important to us in school along with the principles of Laudato Si.'

What we are doing next?

Our PEBL theme this term is the Sixties! We will also explore this theme through our making maths memorable maths approach. If you have any expertise or resources, for example about music, fashion, or famous events during the 60s and would happy to be share this with the children, please let us know!
